Infinity for the Future

The full portfolio of Infinity tyres is manufactured by the third largest tyre manufacturer in China, and the sixteenth largest tyre manufacturer in the world. A number of recent appointments have demonstrated our desire to dramatically increase the technical prowess and capability behind the Infinity brand.

Last year the company employed 50 per cent more technicians than the previous year. In 2010 the plan is to take on 50 per cent more technicians again. Two notable appointments include Dr Xunmao Xia, who has taken over as Vice-Director of the R&D centre.

At the recent Infinity Partners event held in Bangkok, the president, Mr. Wang Feng also outlined a number of exciting R&D initiatives, including plans to invest $200 million in the construction of a “world class” proving ground. The new facility will be a “First class proving ground in terms of size and quality,” he explained.

The recent R&D investments are also designed to prepare the company for the challenges associated with the forthcoming European labeling legislation. In Bangkok, Dr Xunmao explained that the manufacturer has been distributing REACH compliant PAH oil free tyres since September 2009, several months ahead of the January 2010 deadline. The development of a specialised sound laboratory was specifically intended to meet the recently introduced European S-mark legislation.

New Infinity Tyre Portfolio

Alongside new trade press advertising and a new web site, Infinity has now produced a comprehensive, new and updated Tyre Portfolio. Produced in 5 languages, this publication gives a full features and benefits and technical specification of all of the tyres within the Infinity range. If you would like copies of the Portfolio, please contact your local Infinity representative.

with temperatures hovering over 45 degrees Celsius.

The astonishing results put the Infinity Cost per Kilometre (CPK) at $0.0015 in comparison to Michelin at $.0021. This translated into a 27% reduction in operating tyre costs. As a consequence, Naqel Hala instigated a program of changing all their trailer fleet to Infinity – this testimonial is now becoming legendary throughout Saudi Arabia.

General Motors Approves Infinity in Nigeria

Our office in Nigeria recently received acclamation and praise from one of the automotive industry's true giants. General Motors of Nigeria wrote to us to say "Thank You" and "Well Done" related to the performance and durability of Infinity tyres.

Infinity and Beyond

The second Infinity Partners day, held in Bangkok between 5th and 8th of March, attracted Infinity distributors from over 20 countries. In addition, the event was attended by representatives from Al Dobowi in Dubai and from the Linglong factory in China. The hotel accommodation was at the luxurious Grand Hyatt Erawan, situated in the heart of Bangkok.

The objective of the event was for global partners to come together and to exchange views, ideas and thoughts regarding recent Infinity activity and to plan ahead for the future. There were several successful and fruitful one-to-one review meetings held over the course of the three days and the business element of the event culminated in a conference held on the final day.

In the conference delegates heard several presentations given by Infinity, Al Dobowi, Linglong and 2112 Marketing personnel – a comprehensive question and answer session concluded the conference. Interspersed with the business elements were a number of delightful culinary and touring experiences including traditional Thai massages at the welcome dinner (to ease the travelling stiffness!), a visit to the Grand Palace, a trip on a floating market, an exclusive Jazz Brunch at the Four Seasons Hotel, a Chao Phraya River dinner cruise (exclusively chartered and arranged by the Shangri-la Hotel) and an evening on the 63rd floor of the Dome at State Tower Alfresco – the world's highest Alfresco restaurant!

The event was a success for all attendees and the next Partners Day was announced by Surender Kandhari – it will be held in Beijing in 2012!

The Presentations

The Infinity Team, led by Martin Lumb, outlined the range of the Infinity portfolio and emphasised the support available for distributors within their local markets.

Richard Nicholson of agency 2112 Marketing presented the recent marketing activity and future plans for development and marketing of the Infinity brand, the heightening of global awareness for Infinity and the specific marketing initiatives planned both internationally and nationally.

Harjeev Kandhari launched an updated, new version of the Infinity web site.

Dr Xunmao Xia outlined the developments at the factory.

Simona Falorni of Intergomma presented an overview of Infinity in Italy – Intergomma have been an Infinity distributor for just over 2 years and Simona summarised the rapid progress and market share earned by infinity in a very busy and exciting 24 months.

Infinity World Gets Bigger and Bigger!

Infinity sponsors World Baisakhi Night

Infinity was the main sponsor of the World Baisakhi Night 2010 in Dubai organised by the World Punjabi Organisation. Baisakhi is a Punjabi harvest festival celebrated all over the world. The Punjabi community are leaders in the transport industry in the UAE and India so there was a natural association for Infinity. The festival performances were broadcast to an audience of over 30 million Punjabis on the main Punjabi Indian TV channel - PTC.

The event was held on April 22, 2010 at the Dubai Tennis stadium (host of the Dubai Tennis Open) with over 6000 tickets sold for one night. It was held again in Abu Dhabi the following night with a similar audience. The event featured music and performances from prominent world renowned artists, including Jazzy B, Sarabjit Cheema and Sona Walia.

Bulgarian tender win

Our Distributor in Bulgaria (KAMP Consulting) recently won a Governmental tender in Bulgaria to supply Infinity tyres for the vehicles within the Agricultural Department. The selection rationale was based upon both product quality and price. The government officers looked at tyre performance indicators, durability, claim rates, complaints records and service facilities. The award to KAMP represents a major breakthrough – and represents a major opportunity to expand the Infinity business within the public sector and government procurement tenders within Bulgaria.

Going East!

Infinity tyres are expanding and growing globally. Infinity tyres are now being promoted and sold throughout Russia. The promotional activities include billboard hoardings and trade press advertising.

New in Ukraine

Not only is there a new President and a new government, but in addition Ukraine now has a new Infinity distributor. Based in Uzhgorod, Max-Drive Limited is a well-established family-run business with 14 employees and with a dealer network covering all of Ukraine.

The owner, Robert Shtafira, commented – “We offer our network a hand-picked selection of reputable brands – Nokian, Bridgestone, Kumho, Michelin - across the passenger car, truck and 4x4 sectors – we are delighted to add Infinity tyres to our range and look forward to a prosperous long-term relationship.”

Tyrexpo Africa

At the recent trade show in Johannesburg, Infinity had a very successful event attracting many visitors to the stand and generating many new prospects – the stand itself was awarded the Platinum Award for the best stand in the show. The Infinity Girls generated lots of interest too (see them again in Essen during Reifen 2010)!!

In South Africa, Infinity tyres are receiving a large number of recommendations and acclamations for the performance, quality and durability (and retreadability) of their tyres. Testimony to this are two recent letters received – JE have officially approved Infinity Industrial tyres as their Own Equipment fitment. In addition, Jan Tyres wrote to us expressing their delight that many of their Infinity tyres were retreaded two – and sometimes, three – times. This example supports the Bandag retread accreditation for Infinity tyres.

Knowledge is Power!

A group of Infinity personnel from South Africa recently visited the Infinity factory in China to acquire more knowledge, information and insight into the research, testing and production of Infinity tyres. Viewed essentially as a fact finding mission, the objective was to gain a greater insight into the quality systems and manufacturing processes – Charl de Villiers, Managing Director, Infinity (South Africa) commented –“this was a very worthwhile exercise for all concerned – we all learnt a lot and exchanged some useful information and ideas.”
